We know your time is valuable, so we keep your schoolwork manageable.

Xceed Prep makes the most of your in-class time. If you need extra help outside of class hours, tutors are available daily and after-hours. Your free time will be just that – free time – for you to spend how you choose.

If your situation changes, you can take Xceed Prep with you – anywhere, anytime.

If for any reason you don't continue at the training academy, you can still continue your Xceed Prep education from anywhere in the world through our virtual model.

THE XCEED PREP MODEL

SCHOOL & TRAINING IN ONE CONVENIENT LOCATION

You'll find the majority of fellow student athletes at elite training facilities choose Xceed Prep as their education provider. Why? Because our model is based on the flexibility and convenience needed to balance school and the sport you love.

Personalized Learning

Each student works with an Xceed administrator to create a personalized learning plan. All personal goals and priorities are considered, including athletic ambitions and college preferences.

Accountability

Courses are both synchronous (taken on a set schedule) and asynchronous (can be taken whenever is convenient). On-site learning facilitators keep students on track academically and provide one-on-one assistance and guidance.

Community

Learn together. Live together. Train together. Xceed Prep student athletes are part of a learning community located inside or within walking distance to the training academy. At some locations, students participate in community service, take field trips, and attend events as a cohort.

Opportunity

Dual enrollment courses are available for students who are interested in earning college credits. AP and honors courses are available for students looking for more challenging coursework. One-on-one college counseling helps students focus on schools that will take their game and performance to the next level.

Convenience

We make it easy for students to move between school and training – Xceed Prep is located within or adjacent to our partner academies. Tutoring is available daily and after-hours for anyone with questions or in need of extra help.
